This March I will be exhibiting several new paintings along with Larry Preston and Jorge Alberto. The exhibition is of still-life paintings with our own individual and unique take on this fantastic genre.

I have some really fun paintings and I am so excited to share them with you.

All of my paintings explore the wonder of every day life, my love of books and rituals, such as drinking tea in the morning, sketching, and of course reading.

Reading is such a big part of my life, and I love how books introduce new worlds to experience through poetry, literature, and new takes on life with a good design or gardening book. And of course artist monographs hold a special place in my daily life.

I hope you enjoy this sneak peak at the new collection of paintings.

Liz
